Why Recycle Used Motor Oil?

Because it never wears out!

---

Your used motor oil can be recycled and used again. And that means you can be conserving a natural resource. Motor oil which is poured into the ground can pollute the soil, ground water, streams and rivers... your environment. When you take your used motor oil to a State Certified Used Oil Collection Center for recycling, you are protecting the environment and conserving a valuable resource.

Recycling Tips

- When draining used motor oil, use a clean plastic container with a tight lid.
- Reuse your used oil container, and store it safely, away from children and pets.
- Don't mix used oil with chemicals, gasoline, water, or other substances.
- Use a reusable 5-gallon or smaller size container.
- State Certified Used Oil Collection

Centers will take between 5 and 20 gallons per day, per person. Call the Center to confirm the amount accepted.

Used Oil Household Hazardous Waste

Household hazardous waste - such as motor oil and used oil filters, car batteries, paints, solvents, pesticides, gasoline, pool chemicals, poisons, etc. - cannot be placed in recycling bins or residents' trash cans. The County of Orange operates several collection centers for the disposal of household hazardous waste.
